Avoca Park Equestrian

A Pony Club Australia Accredited Riding Centre

"Horses are always trying to communicate, it is up to us to listen"

Riders of all ages and abilities love Avoca Park's team of school horses, allowing them to learn in a supportive and safe environment, set in a beautiful area of Victoria.

Owner Leanne Williams and her team are passionate about teaching riders safely and properly, and the Avoca Park facilities include private paddocks, safe undercover yards, classrooms, outdoor and indoor arenas and on-site accommodation for equine holidays. Horses and ponies range from docile kind souls that love to look after beginners, to some that have competed Prix St George and can help further your dressage skills! We always try to suit the rider to the most appropriate horse depending their size, skill and what they want from the lesson.

"We love helping people understand their horses. Watching horse and rider click into what you're asking of them, they become synchronised, work as a team, and it's a beautiful experience to witness."

Meet the Owner

Leanne Williams' passion for horses began when her childhood best friend got herself a pony - "I went to a riding school and took every opportunity I could to get in the saddle and learn." Leanne has gone on to achieve Equestrian Australia National Coaching Levels 1-3 in Dressage, as well as becoming a Level 2 Jumping Equitation Judge and a Level 1 licensed teacher in Philippe Karl's School of Légèreté. More recently, Avoca has become one of the first PCA Accredited riding centres. Leanne and her team are proud to provide opportunities to riders without their own horse -

"The PCA curriculum is a marvellous initiative and there are many horse-mad children (and adults) who would love the opportunity to be part of such an amazing organisation."
