

Rare Opportunity for Coaches and Official – Key Note Speaker and Equitation Science Demonstrations at CanterCon

One of the highlights of CanterCon 2026 will be the rare opportunity to learn from two of the most respected names in equestrian education – Andrew McLean and Manuela McLean.

Andrew McLean, internationally recognised horse trainer, researcher and founder of Equitation Science, will deliver the Saturday Keynote Address. Known for challenging traditional thinking and transforming the way we understand horse learning and behaviour, Andrew's presentation promises to provide valuable insights for coaches, officials and equestrian educators across all disciplines.

Joining him is Manuela McLean, whose practical session will tackle some of the most common behaviour challenges encountered in coaching lessons. With her trademark blend of expertise, experience and humour, Manu will share practical strategies to help coaches better understand and address problem behaviours, creating safer and more effective learning environments for both horses and riders.

Whether you're a coach, official, educator or lifelong horse enthusiast, this is a unique chance to learn from two world-leading experts in one weekend.

Don't miss your opportunity to be part of Australia's premier equestrian education event being held at the Melbourne Showgrounds on 25th and 26th July.
